

CPSIA General Statement

The Consumer Safety Improvement Act (CPSIA) of 2008 introduced new testing procedures and requirements for many manufacturers and suppliers of consumer goods in the United States. The majority of the statute referenced products that are intended for sale to children ages 12 and under and required a lower limit for lead in those products.

TradeNet products are designed for business promotions and directed at an audience older than 12 years of age. Due to the sale of our products through a distributor relationship we are not always aware of the age of the end user.

In order to comply with the CPSIA all inks and substrates have been tested by a third party lab – Microbac Laboratories, Inc. in Boulder, Colorado. All items tested met the minimum reporting limit.
